Plates were designed and etched by the Author.

"Eleven copper plates are all that are known to have been published with the book (1). Frontispiece vol. 1. B. Romans, fecit; (2). dedication To John Ellis, Esq. Fellow of the Royal Society of London and Upsal Agent for the Province of West-Florida. This work is with the greatest Respect most humbly dedicated: by his most obedient humble Servant Bernard Romans; (3). P 31, Avena aqautica Sylvestris; (4). 59, Characteristick Chicasaw head; (5). P. 82, Characteristick Chicasaw Busts. B. Romans fecit; (6). Chactaw funeral platform, P 89, B: R. inv. et fecit; (7). P 93, B. Romans fecit; Characteristick head of a Creek War Chief; (8). two Indian heiroglyphic paintings. P 102 B. R. fecit; (9). Page LXXVIIII of the Appendix Entrances of Tampa Bay; (10). Page LXXXIV of the Appendix Pensacola Bar; (11), Page XXXXXV of the Appendix Mobile Bar. The folded table at page 104 is entitled: "An Aggregate and Valuation of Exports of Produce from the Province of Georgia, With the Number of Vessels and Tonnage employed therein, annually distinguished from the Year 1754 to 1773. Compiled by William Brown, Comptroller and Searcher of his Majesty's Customs in the Port of Savannah." At the end of the volume is the following: "Advertisement: The Map of the country of the savage nations, intended to be put, facing page 72, was engraved by a Gentleman who resides in the country 60 or 70 miles from New York, to whom the plate was sent; but when it was sent back it miscarried, through the carelessness and the waggoner; and though the publication has been delayed some time on that account, it is not yet come to hand; the reader will therefore please to expect said map with the second volume. At the first planning this publication, it was intended only to be a single volume not exceeding 300 pages, appendix and all; but at the request of some gentlemen, my friends, i have subjoined so many articles, that it swelled imperceptibly to about 800 pages, which made it necessary to print it in two volumes; and as some unexpected accidents, especially the want of a copper plate printer, have occasioned delays, i will therefore, to atone in some measure, (for said delays) to those kind Gentlemen who favoured me with their subscriptions for the maps, deliver them the second volume gratis, as soon as it is published: It is now in the press. Bernard Romans.

"A rare and important work. No copy has ever been found with either of the whole sheet maps, and all are more or less deficient in the number of plates referred to in the title-page." Sabin.

"Bernard Romans was an engineer in the British service; he was previous to his employment in the capacity of an engineer for the construction of defences in the Highlands, in the enjoyment of a pension of £50 a year from the British crown as botanist for one of the Floridas." Murphy.

4788. SANDERS, DANIEL CLARKE (REV.) A | History | of the | Indian Wars | with the | First Settlers of the Uni- | ted States, | particularly | in New England. | Written in Vermont. | . . . . | Montpelier, Vt. | Published by Wright and Sibley. | 1812. | Wright & Sibley, Printers. | 16mo, pp. 319.

"The mystery which surrounded the authorship, history and origin of this very rare volume, has been slowly dispelled by successive fragments of information. So few copies have survived the holocaust to which it was devoted, that its very existence was unknown to the most zealous collectors of Indian and Vermont history. Published anonymously without preface, it was known to but few that the author was the Rev. Daniel Clark(e) Sanders, President of the University of Vermont. Immediately after its appearance some person, evidently a personal enemy of the author, published an acrimonious critique upon the book in the Liberal and Philosophical Repository. The animus of the critic was evidenced, not only by the bitterness of his language, but by his ignorance of the subject of Indian wars being more profound than that of the author of the book he scored. Such was the effect of the article, upon either Mr. Sanders or his publishers, that the work was suppressed. But very few copies could have escaped the hands that were now as zealous to destroy as they had lately been to create. In fact, so nearly complete was the destruction of the book, that it was forgotten by those who professed to know most of its author, his biographers. Neither Thompson, Williams, or Hemenway, who published memoirs of him, mention his authorship of "Indian Wars." Field.

4807. SAUNDERS, WILLIAM LAWRENCE. The Colonial Records of North Carolina. Published under supervision of the Trustees of the Public Libraries by Order of the General Assembly. Collected and Edited by William L. Saunders, Secretary of State. Vol. I (—X). 1662 to 1712. Raleigh: P. M. Hale, Printer to the State. 1886—1890. 4to.

Not until the publication of these records has it been possible to write an accurate account of any particular phase in the historical development of North Carolina, for the original records in the office of the Secretary of State in Raleigh were remarkably incomplete, and of the first fifty years almost nothing remained.

As early as 1827 the Governor was instructed by the Legislature to procure from the British Government copies of all papers relating to the colonial history of the State. Correspondence was begun, and in that year Minister Gallatin forwarded to Governor Burton a list of such papers as related to North Carolina. This list was printed in 1843 under the following title: Colonial Records of North Carolina. Indexes to Documents relative to North Carolina during the Colonial Existence of said State; now on File in the Offices of the Board of Trade and State Paper Offices in London; transmitted in 1827. Raleigh: T. Loring. 1843. 8vo, pp. 120.

In 1881 the Legislature directed the trustees of libraries to publish what colonial documents were then in the State. The gaps in these records were found to be so many and so great that the trustee determined to ask the State for aid toward making the records more complete. This State aid was given in 1883. The work of compiling and editing devolved upon Hon. W. L. Saunders, LL.D., who brought to it a tireless energy and a love that knows no bounds, and a devotion unsurpassed. For nearly eleven years he devoted himself to it, part of the proof being read while he was lying upon his back suffering from rheumatism. Week's Bibl'y N. Carolina.

The ten volumes of these records each contain prefatory notes by the editor upon historical subjects, several of which have been published as reprints, viz:

Genuine account of the true situation of the most shepherdless congregations in Pennsylvania, &c.

"The author, at first minister at St. Gallen in Switzerland, came to Amsterdam in 1736, and was sent by the Synod of Holland to Pennsylvania, in order to visit the different congregations throughout the land. The volume contains at first an extract from the journal of his voyages in New England, New Netherland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia, 1746-51; then an account of the State of Pennsylvania and of the numerous Reformed congregations there and in the adjacent provinces, which he found mostly without ministers. These relations are of the highest interest, as they give details of the country, its people, the number of stone and other houses in the principal towns, &c." Müller.

Johns Hopkins University studies, ed. by H. B. Adams, 3d ser., pt. 8.

A lecture read at Perth Amboy, November 25, 1884, the two hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the American Board of Proprietors of East Jersey. Sketches the early colonial history of New Jersey, with special reference to the period from 1682, at which time the soil and rights of government were transferred to the twenty-four Proprietors, to 1702.

4863. SCOT, GEORGE (of Pitlochie). The | Model | of the | Government | Of the | Province | of | East New-Jersey | in | America; | And Encouragements for such as Designs | to be concerned there. | Published for Information of such as are de- | sirous to be Interested in that place. | Edinburgh, | Printed by John Reid, And Sold by Alexander Ogsten Stationer in the | Parliament Closs. Anno

| Dom. 1685. | Sm. 8vo, pp. (8), 272. Sig. A in four. A (repeated) to o in eights, and P to U in fours.

"The first blank leaf contains only the signature A on the recto. Following the title is the dedication 'To James Earl of Perth, Lord Drummond and Stobhall, &c., Lord High Chanceller of Scotland,' signed by 'George Scot.' At the end of this is an advertisement 'To the Reader from the Printer,' requesting him 'with his pen to help what he finds amiss, the author's pressing affairs having hindered him from overseeing the press.'

"Mr. Whitehead has called attention, in his reprint, to a variation which is found on page 37. In the book as originally issued and 'intended for circulation in Scotland,' is a paragraph which was 'modified when copies were circulated in England, a new fly-leaf being inserted.' In the former, of which copies are in the New Jersey Historical Society, and in the Lenox Library, the last paragraph on page 37 begins with the words, 'I find removal likewise allowable in case of persecution, &c.' In the latter issue, of which copies are in Harvard College Library and in the possession of Mr. Whitehead, another paragraph was substituted, beginning with the words, 'Where people find themselves straitened in point of their opinion,' &c. The effect of the publication of this book was highly beneficial to the Province in promoting its settlement, 'particularly as the author added example to precept by embarking himself and family for East Jersey. He was accompanied by nearly two hundred persons, and sailed from Scotland in Sep., 1685, but both himself and wife died on the passage.' See W. A. Whitehead's 'East Jersey under the Proprietary Governments,' New York, 1846 (2d ed. Newark, 1875), where Scot's work was reprinted. The book is very rare. Mr. Murphy's copy sold in 1884 for $105." Sabin.

"It appears that Scot, by whom the Preface is signed, came to America and examined the coast 'from the River of Canada, Northerly, to the River of May, Southerly, in that part of Florida, now called Caralina; having in my search,' he writes, 'had the opportunity of informing myself of the different nature of the Soils, the temperature of the Climate, the healthfulness of the places, the constitution of the several Governments, the convenience of Access; to East-Jersey, upon the River of Hudson, the place I find myself oblidged to preferr to any of the other English Plantations upon that coast, upon some or other, if not most of the above named considerations.'

"About one-third of the volume is taken up with contemporary letters from persons living in New Jersey, to their friends in Scotland. The few copies that have turned up of this very rare volume have brought high prices. Dr. Long's copy sold in London in 1879 brought £28.10. A copy in the catalogue of W. Paterson, Edinburgh, 1880, was priced at £18.18." Murphy.

Originally published at $18.00.

In the volumes will be found all the history of the present State as well as the vast country formerly known as the Oregon Territory.

The question of its original inhabitants, its first discoverers, the Indian tribes within its borders, its vast fur trade, and its final settlement, the boundary question, and finally its marvelous growth as an American State are all entered into and discussed at length.

The illustrations are from various sources, old prints have been copied, and new sketches made. Portraits of all the early leaders in the Oregon movement will be found interted between the pages.

Much space is given to the Lewis and Clarke expedition.

"This little book is a lamentation for the sake of the country. The writer imagined that the prevalence of sin had called down the vengeance of Heaven upon our land, which was shown in many instances of punishment, as 'strange diseases, not suited formerly to the pure and serene air of our climate (whither strangers were wont to have recourse to recover their desired health). Not only with the infectous small pox, but with burning and spotted fevers, shaking agues, &c.' For a memoir of Scottow, see Mass. Hist. Soc. Collec., 2d Ser., V. 4, pp. 100-104." Sabin.

Frontispiece and five plates.

The first edition is rare, as the most of it was suppressed. An account is given in this book of the iniquitous transactions by which Dr. Turnbull governed his colony of white slaves at New Smyrna. In 1767 he obtained a grant of land in Florida and induced a number of Greek families to go as colonists. They were bound to him for five years, and were governed and treated worse than the ordinary African slave. Mr. Gunter wrote a novel upon the subject.

4903. SEXTON, ELLA M. Stories of California. New York: The Macmillan Company. 1902. 12mo, pp. 10, 211.

"The volume comprises some excellent contributions to history, as it certainly comprises some notable contributions to romance. The little book is one which will appeal, therefore, to readers old and young. Several of the stories explain in some degree the remarkable physical characteristics of California; but the writer's chief aim has evidently been to unfold to children and to their parents the life of by-gone days." The Outlook.

4932. ———. History and Exploration of the Mississippi Valley: with the Original Narratives of Marquette, Allouez, Membré, Hennepin, and Anastase Douay. Second Edition, with a facsimile of the Newly Discovered Map of Marquette (17x22 inches), of Marquette's Letter, and a steel portrait of La Salle. Edition limited to 500 numbered copies. Reprinted for Joseph McDonough. Albany, N. Y.: Joseph McDonough. 1903. 4to, pp. 348.

To the thoughtful student the story of the wonderful growth of this region will always remain not only instructive but fascinating. In Mr. Shea's Discovery and Exploration of the Mississippi Valley we find an account of the early explorations, not a dry recital, but a living picture, as the men who dared and did tell their own story. We come close to them, and with a grateful heart look back to that noble band of heroes whose struggles and hardships gave us this magnificent inheritance.

The present edition is superior to the original, being printed from new type on heavy paper, with wide margins, and contains a new steel portrait of La Salle.

"The compiler of the present book has done his work well. It will be found interesting, not only to Americans—to whose archeological literature it is a contribution—but to those among ourselves who like stories of travel and adventure. Mr. Shea writes clearly, graphically and with considerable eloquence; and, from his various allusions in the course of the volume, we gather that his sympathy with the labors and sufferings of the Jesuit missionaries and explorers is not merely a sympathy of a literary character, but also that of a fellow religionist—a circumstance which contributes, at least, to give his work spirit and animation." London Athenæum.

James Smith (now a Citizen of Bourbon County, Ky.) during his captivity with the Indians, in the years 1855, 56, 57, 58 & 59. In which the Customs, Manners, Traditions, Theological Sentiments, Mode of Warfare, Military Tactics, Discipline and Encampments, Treatment of Prisoners, &c., are better explained, and more minutely narrated, than has been heretofore done by any author on that subject. Together with a Description of the Soil, Timber and Waters, where he travelled with the Indians, during his captivity. To which is added a Brief Account of some Very Uncommon Occurrances, which transpired after his return from captivity; as well as from the Different Campaigns carried on against the Indians to the Westward of Fort Pitt, since the year 1755, to the present date. Written by Himself. Lexington: Printed by John Bradford, on Main Street, 1799. 8vo, pp. 88.

"This is the original edition of Col. Smith's Narrative and one of the rarest works of Western history. It is believed that there are not a dozen perfect copies in existence." Thomson.

lington, of Pittsburg. Cincinnati: Robert Clarke & Co. 1870. 8vo, pp. vii, 190.

"This reprint forms Vol. 5 of the Ohio Valley Historical Series. It is the only edition with an index, and its value is greatly increased by the notes of Mr. Darlington, whose knowledge of Western literature and history is unsurpassed. The biographical sketch of Col. Smith, which precedes the work, is from the pen of Mr. Robert Clarke, of Cincinnati. Smith's captivity is also reprinted in 'Pritt's Olden Time,' pp. 385-454; 'Events in Indian History,' pp. 423-475; 'Western Review,' Vol. 4, p. 235." Thomson.

5039. ———. A Treatise on the Mode and Manner of Indian War, their Tactics, Discipline and Encampment, the various Methods they Practice, to obtain the Advantage, by Ambush, Surprise, Surrounding, &c. Ways and Means proposed to prevent the Indians from obtaining the Advantage. A Chart or Plan of Marching, and Encamping, laid down, whereby we may undoubtedly surround them if we have men sufficient. Also—A Brief Account of Twenty-three Campaigns, carried on against the Indians with the Events since the Year 1755; Gov. Harrison's included. By Col. James Smith. Likewise—Some Abstracts selected from his Journal, while in Captivity with the Indians, relative to the Wars: which was published many years ago, but few of them now to be found. Paris, Kentucky: Printed for Joel R. Lyle, 1812. 12mo, pp. 1.59.

"When the Indians became troublesome in 1811, and a general Indian war was expected, Col. Smith, too old for actual service, but still having considerable of the old leaven of patriotism in him, wrote out and published the above treatise. There is not much new matter in this volume. The portions of his 'Captivity' relating to Indian warfare are rearranged and connected. The volume is excessively rare." Thomson's Ohio Bibl'y.

5057. ———. New | Englands | Trials. | Declaring the successe of 26 Ships | employed thither within these sixe yeeres: | with the benefit of that Countrey by sea and land: and how to build threescore sayle of good Ships, to make a little | Navie Royall. | Written by Captaine | Iohn Smith. | London, | Printed by William Iones. | 1620.

This is the very rare first edition. Mr. Deane communicated the transcript of this to the Massachusetts Historical Society in 1873, as follows: "On my first visit to the Bodleian Library at Oxford, in 1866, the first book I asked to look at was Hariot's Virginia, 1588; and the second was the first edition of Capt. John Smith's New England's Trials, 1620. Though the British Museum has a copy of each, I am not aware that either can be found in this country. The first edition contains only eight leaves of text, while the second contains fourteen. Neither edition is paged. There is nothing in either edition to indicate that a map was published with it."

A facsimile was printed in Trans. Mass. Histor. Soc., Feb., 1873, page for page, according to the original.

Sold: 1867 ed.: Deane, 1898, cl, unct, 4.50; Brevoort, 1890, presentation copy with Mr. Brown's autograph, hlf bd, Roxburghe style, 7.25; The Same, cl, 6.25; Barlow, 1890, 11.00; Manson, 1899, unct, 3.50; Menzies, 1876, hlf mo, glt, unct, large pap, 5.50; Same sale, large pap, 10.00; Libbie, 1900, 3.50; Cooke, 1883, levt mo, glt, unct, Matthews, large pap, 21.25.

5059. ———. New Englands Trials. Declaring the successe of 80 ships employed within these eight yeares; and the benefit of that Countrey by Sea and Land. With the present estate of that happie Plantation, begun by but 60 Weake men in the yeare 1620. And how to build a Fleete of good Shippes to make a little Nauie Royall.

Written by Captain Iohn Smith, sometimes Gouernour of Virginia, and Admirall of New England. The Second Edition. London, Printed by William Iones. 1622. (Reprinted, Providence: 1867.) Imp. 8vo, 16 unpaged leaves.

This edition consisted of but sixty copies, printed for John Carter Brown. It is a facsimile reprint.

"By way of satirizing the large paper mania which had run to a ridiculous extreme, there were sixty copies of the work printed on large paper and ten on small." Menzie's Catalog.

5060. ———. New England Trials. A reprint of the rare first edition of 1620. With a prefatory note by Charles Deane. Cambridge: 1873. Sm. 4to.

Fifty copies were printed.

The original tract was reprinted, from that in the Bodleian Library, in the Proceedings of Mass. Hist. Soc., Feb., 1873.

Sold: Deane, 1898, pap, unct, 6.50; Deane, 1898, antique pap (1 print laid into one of the edition of ordinary paper copies), 5.00; Cooke, 1883, levt, mo, glt, unct, 2.75; Manson, 1899, unct, 3.75; Cable, 1883, 2.75; Whitmore, 1902, 3.25; Bangs, 1900, pap, 3.87.

5061 ———. New England's Trials: declaring the success of eighty ships employed thither within these eight years, and the benefit of that country by sea and land; with the present estate of that happy plantation begun but by sixty weak men in the year 1620; and how to build a fleet of good ships to make a little navy royal; written by Captain John Smith, sometimes Governor of Virginia and Admiral of New England. The Second Edition. London: Printed by William Jones. 1622. Rochester, N. Y.: Reprinted by G. P. Humphrey. (1898.) 8vo, pp. 23.*

5062. ———. The Generall | Historie | of Virginia, New England, and the Summer | Isles: With the names of the Adventurers, | Planters, Governours from their | first beginning Anno: 1584 to this | present 1624. | With the Proceedings of those severall Colonies | and the Accidents that befell them in all their | Journeys and Discoveries. Also, the Maps and Descriptions of all those | Countryes, their Commodities, people | Government, Customes, and Religion | yet knowne | Divided into Sixe Bookes. | By Captaine John Smith, sometymes Governour in those Countryes & Admirall | of New England. London: | Printed by I. D. & I. H. for Michael Sparkes. 1624. | F pp (12), 96, 105-248. Engraved title.

"There are copies with dates 1627 and 1632, but they are probably the same as those of 1624." Williamson.

Small folio, engraved title, with portraits of Queen Elizabeth, James I, and Prince Charles, portrait of Duchess of Richmond by Delaram, and four maps, portrait of Matoaka.

"It is very seldom that a copy of Smith's Virginia contains all the maps and portraits. The two portraits are so rare that bibliographers disagree whether they were issued with the book or not. The compiler of the catalogue of the Huth Library says of his copy that 'it certainly never possessed the portraits of the Duchess of Richmond and Matoaka, which are inserted in some copies, but were not originally issued with the book.'" Quaritch.

In the Murphy catalogue, p. 324, is the following collation of the copy offered: "Engraved title, with portraits of Queen Elizabeth, King James and Prince Charles. Plates: I. Portrait of the Duchesse of Richmond and Lenox. II. A map of Virginia. III. The Adventures of Captain Smith, and a map of 'Oould Virginia,' in six compartments. IV. Portrait of Matoaka. V. View of the Fortes, in the centre a map of the Summer Islands. VI. Map of New England, with 'Portraicture of Captayne John Smith' in one compartment. VII. Travels of Capt. John Smith among the Turks in nine compartments. London." Murphy.

"Of the three impressions of the large map of Virginia, first published in 1612, this is the second and the right one for this edition (1627 ed.), before Sparkes Point was put in. Of the nice editions of the map of New England, with the portrait of Captain Smith, this is the third, before the portrait was retouched, before Charles River was extended, and before Salem and Boston were put in. Very few of the copies of 1624, 1626 and 1627 have all the right maps. The plate of the map of New England was much altered after 1627, and names of places added which were not given till 1628, 1630, or later. It is very important to have the right maps corresponding to the date of the edition. Stevens. Bibl. Americana. 1870.

Sold: Libbie, 1901, "First edition (1624) with the earliest issue of the title page. Though the later issues state that the history is brought down to 1626, the sheets are identical and there are no additions. In this issue the portrait of Prince Charles in the upper right hand compartment is of a young man and uncrowned and the inscription reads, 'Carolus Princeps.' In the later issues this is changed to Carolus Rex and a crown has been engraved upon the head though the face is unchanged," 110.00; Clogston, 1899, title p, maps in facsim, pp. 53 to 56 missing, 18.00; Libbie, 1901, maps & title in facsim, bndg. broken, 24.00; Brinley sale, 1879: "Engraved title, pp. (12), 96, 105-248. 4 maps. Large paper, measuring 8 1-6 x 12 1-9 inches on the leaf, nearly. The Dedication copy of the first edition; in the original binding, dark blue morocco, gilt edges, sides panelled, wide gilt borders, the panel semee of fleurs de lis and corners richly gilt, having in the center on one side the royal arms (James I) and on the other the arms of the Duchess of Richmond and Lenox, to whom the work was dedicated, and whose portrait (with that of Matoaka) was inserted in some later copies. This unique volume is in the finest possible condition, with excellent impressions of the engraved title page and maps. It is enclosed in a dark blue str. grained morocco case, sides and back glt and lettered. Mr. Menzies' copy of the edition of 1632 measured 7 1-12 x 11¼ inches and was described as unusually large. The Brinley copy is an inch and a quarter wider and an inch and five-eighths taller." Brinley catalog. No. 364. Sold for 1,800.00. (Mr. Brinley's copy is in the Lenox Library.) Chittenden, 1894, levt mo by R. W. Smith, portr, Matoaka genuine, 2 maps of Va., copies, map of N. "The typographical and cartographical execution of these volumes is much more deserving of praise than their literary qualities. The maps are beautifully reproduced in facsimile, and the text is admirably printed, but the various works of Captain John Smith, adventurer, poet, and historian, are blended in an exceedingly puzzling way, for ascertaining when the history of Virginia begins and the true travels end." Field Catalog.

Collation of Maps in Smith.

In Norton's Literary Gazette and Publishers' Circular, for March 15, 1854, (new Ser. V. 1) Mr. James Lenox published a collation of the illustrations in the various editions of Smith's works; in the issue for May 1, 1854, Mr. Charles Deane furnished additional data. Believing this to be of value it has been copied as follows:

"Issues in 1624, 1626, 1627, and two in 1632. In all these the printed portion is identical, all want sheet o, or from p. 97 to p. 104. A few copies are found on the last page of which a slip of paper is pasted, containing 5½ lines of errata. The errors occur in all the five copies consulted for this notice, but in one, with the frontispiece of 1627, the mistakes have been corrected and so neatly that the changes would not be observed unless the attention were called to them. This copy has not the slip of errata.

"Illustrations of a perfect copy:

"No. 1. An engraved frontispiece and title; at the top, portraits of Elizabeth, James I, and Charles his son, in small ovals.

"There are five variations or different issues, all of which are apparently printed from the same copper.

"(1) The title is engraved in the center of the frontispiece: The | General Historie | of | Virginia, New England and the Summer | Isles | with the names of the Adventurers, | Planters, and Governors, from their | first beginning, An. 1584 to this | present 1624. | The imprint is as follows: London | printed by I. D. and | I. H. for Michael | Sparkes | 1624. | The portrait of Charles, in the upper right hand corner, is without a crown, the face is long and thin, and the beard peaked; the motto around the oval, 'Carolus-princeps.' (2) Issued in 1626. Charles having succeeded to the throne, a crown is placed upon his head, similar to that worn by James: the word 'Princeps' is changed to 'Rex,' the two dates, above and below, are altered on the copper from 1624 to 1626. The copper itself appears to be a little worn. (3) The plate seems to have been re-touched, as the impression is more distinct than in (2). The upper date, 1626, remains; the lower is changed to 1627, but apparently on the copper and not with the pen. (Mr. Lenox thought the 1626 date was changed with a pen; but Mr. Deane thought it was on the copper.) (4) The imprint now reads thus: London: | Printed by I. D. and | I. H. for Edward | Blackmore. | Anno 1632. | The portrait of Charles as in (2) and (3). (5) Charles' head is re-engraved.

"No. II. The portrait of the Duchess of Richmond.

"(1) The original engraved Anno 1623, by Guilh: Pass, London.

"(2) The facsimile, printed Augt. 10, 1793, by W. Richardson, Castle St. Leicester Square. These are to be distinguished only by comparing them together, as in most of the facsimiles the name, &c., of Richardson, is cut off. The execution of the originals is much lighter and softer, and the letters of the inscription are not so angular, and upright as in the copy. But the imitation is very good, and can be detected only by comparison, or by an eye familiar with the engravings.

"No. III. A large folding plate, representing Smith's Adventures; it is divided into seven principal compartments; the center one of those at the bottom contains a small map of 'Ould Virginia.' It was supposed that there were no variations in this plate. But one has been discovered.

"(1) In the map of 'Ould Virginia.' Beginning at the left hand, it wants the forest of trees, and the names Mountayne's forest, Mason's bushe, Walden's Oake, L. D., Lenox rocks, Richmond's steps, Stuard's reach, Anadale's chase, Dover's Ile, Salvage Ile, Gorden's Ile, Guy's Nygod, P. Box, Ile Hatton, Abbot's Ile, Cecil's Harbor, Hertford Ile, Essex Ile, Worcester Inlet, Arundell's Ile, P. Corbett, P. Barkley, Mildmaid's roade, Townsrow's end, Segar's grove, and the trees, Beauchamp's playne, L. Salvage Rocke and the rock, Bedford's valley. The words in the next compartment 'printed by James Reeve' are also omitted. Smith probably never surveyed for this map: but adopted and reduced the map published by De Bry in 1590, in the first part of the Large Voyages, containing Hariot's account of Raleigh's discovery of Virginia. The names employed in the two maps very nearly agree. Smith translated De Bry's 'Promontorium tremendum,' C. feare.

"(2) This map has the forest, and all the names omitted in (1), and the words 'printed by James Reeves' are also added.

"No. IV. Folding map of Virginia.

"(1) The original map has no degrees of longitude marked on the sides, and the latitude only at the bottom. (The reader will observe that as the map lies in the book, the north and not the east is at the right hand, and the degrees of latitude and longitude have changed places.) It has no indication above, nor in the right hand corner below, of the work or page to which it belongs, no escutcheon or motto near the lower right hand corner, no date 1606 under the scale of miles, no date 1607 beneath Powhattan at the right hand above. It does not contain these names: Gunter's Harbour, Brooke's forest, Winston Isles, Washborne C., to the east of Chesapeake Bay; and west of the bay it has not Taverner's Roade, Downe's Dale, Bland's C., Burton's mount, Democrites' tree, Sparke's Content (or valley), Featherston's Baye, Booler's Bush. (2) Like (1) except that Smith's escutcheon alone is introduced near the lower right hand corner, without his motto: the dates 1606 and 1607 are found in their respective places, and all the names given above are still omitted. (3) The true Purchas map, found in Vol. 4, 1625. Like (2) except that the degrees of latitude are marked at the top and bottom, and the longitude at the sides, at the top in the left and right hand corners are the figures 1690, 1691—the pages between which the map is placed in Purchas' volume—no reference to Smith's work in the lower right hand corner—Smith' arms with the motto, near the same place. At the east of the bay, we find Gunter's Harbor, Brook's Forest and Winston's Isles, but not Washborne C.—at the west, Teverner's Roade, Burton's mount. Democrites' tree, Sparke's Content (not valley), with the hill between the two words; but not Downe's Dale, Bland's C., Featherstone Bay nor Booler's Bush.

"In 1627 and 1628, De Bry published a map of Virginia, evidently copied from (3). It first appeared in Part 13 of his German large Voyages, titles to which are found with both years; but the preface to all is dated 14 Septr 1627. The differences between the two are as follows: there is no reference to Purchas; the dates 1606, 1607, the escutcheon and motto of Smith are omitted; the scale of the map being a little smaller than Smith's De Bry leaves out the ornamented scroll on which is printed the word Virginia in large capitals, the vessel and whale in the Virginian sea, the whale in the bay, the dividers and ornaments about the scale of miles, and the name of the engraver; the giant at the right is reduced in size, the names correspond with those on (3).

"(4) Like (3) except that the reference (p. 41, Smith) is introduced in the lower right hand corner, and Washborne C', east of the bay; at the west, Sparke's Content is changed to Sparke's Valley, both words above the hill, and Content below obliterated, and Downe's Dale, Bland's C., Featherstone Bay and Booler's Bush are also introduced.

"No. V. Portrait of Matoaka—or Pocahontas.

"The same remarks apply to this plate as to that of the Duchess of Richmond, but the facsimile is not so carefully executed. The inscription of the original is in larger type, and the plate has at the left 'S. Pass Sculp.' and at the right 'Compton Holland excud.' These indications are not on the counterfeit, while the name of Richardson is very frequently left at the bottom of the impression.

"No. VI. Folding plate divided into several compartments, representing fortifications, instruments of warfare, &c., and, in the center a small map of the Bermudas, or Summer Isles. (1) No variation has been discovered but it is probable that such will be found, without Reeves' name, and perhaps with some differences in the map of the Bahamas.

"No. VII. Folding map of New England, with Smith's portrait in one corner.

"The map is found in eight different conditions. It is uncertain whether all belong to this work; probably all but Nos. (1) and (8) were used in the different issues of the volume. (1) Smith's armour has no figures traced upon it, nor are there any contretailles or cross lines on the front of the breast plate, towards his right hand. In the lower left hand corner we read

"Simon Passæus sculpsit,

"Robert Clark excudit, and in the lower right hand corner

"London Printed by George Low.

"There is no date under the scale of leagues. All the other maps have the date 1614 in that place. The names P. Travers and Gerrard's Isles are not marked in Pembrock's Bay; nor Payne's Isles near the River Forth. The River Charles is not carried out to the edge of the map. Smith's arms are not found near the lower left hand corner. A ship, whale, fleet of vessels, the compass, and a scale of leagues are all inserted in different places in that part representing the sea; and the arms of England on the land at the top. Smith's likeness resembles his early portraits.

"The map in this condition is very rare and was probably engraved for Smith's 'Description of New England,' a small quarto printed for Robert Clarke in 1616, and which, according to Rich, was the first book published that speaks of New England, previously called North Virginia. Besides, in 1617 Hulsius translated Smith's Description, and copied his map very nearly on the same scale. It is a facsimile of this map (1) except that the names in the corners are omitted, and Smith's title, the verses below the portrait, and some of the explanations are in German. The latitude only is marked, and only on the right side. The inscription at the top near the royal arms, and under the name 'New England,' reads Prince Charles | Prince of Great Britaine.

"1½. Like 1 except there is no escutcheon.

"(2) Like (1) except that the date 1614 is introduced, as are P. Travers and Gerrard's Isles near Pembrock's Bay. Payne' Iles are not yet marked. Smith's escutcheon, without the motto, is engraved near the lower left hand corner.

"(3) Like (2) except that the motto, 'Vincere est vivere,' is inserted along the line of Smith's escutcheon, and his portrait is very much worn. The degrees of latitude are marked on both sides, and the longitude at the top and bottom.

"(4) Like (3) except that Payne's Isles are marked near the River Forth; Smith's whole portrait has been retouched; the side of the breastplate at his right is covered with contretailles; Robert Clark's name is obliterated, but Pass' and Low's remain. Deane says Clark's name is only partially obliterated, it can be seen on all the maps subsequently published, but on (8) appears very plainly, the whole map having been retouched.

"(5) In all respects like (4) except that George Low's name is changed for that of James Reeve.

"(6) Like (5) except that Smith's whole armor is covered with an ornament of leaves. The following names are introduced for the first time: West's Bay near Cape James, P. Standish, New (above Plimouth), P. Wynthrop, P. Reeves, and Salem, the last just north of Cape Anna. Fullerton Isles, Cary Isles, and P. Murray are altered to Francis' Isle, Claiborn's Isle, and P. Saltonstall. The inscription at the top now reads thus: 'Prince Charles, | nowe King of great Britaine.'

"(7) Like (6) Charlton is added near the River Charles; Salem is obliterated and placed at the South of Bristow, and directly in the center of the map a large coat of arms with supporters and the motto, 'Gens incognita mihi serviet,' is introduced. Martin's Isle also introduced in the upper right hand corner. Two rivers take their source south of the tree below South Hampton, and run into Talbot's Bay, between Bristow and Bastable, obliterating in their course a church found on the other maps. There is a church represented, with Salem in its new position.

"(8) Like (7) with these additions. The course of the River Charles is carried out to the edge of the map, and the names of several towns, Saugus, Charles Towne, Medford, Boston, Dorchester, Roxbury, Newtowne, Water-towne, are laid down upon or near it; houses, men, trees and animals are represented; a large school of codfish is introduced below the single ship, and under the compass these words are printed: 'He that desyres to know more of the Estate of New | England, lett him read a new Book of the prospecte" | of new England, and ther he shall have Satisfaction.' | This refers to Wood's New England's Prospects, the first edition of which was published in 1634, after which date this notice must have been inserted in the map. This map, thus altered, does not therefore belong to Smith's History. Winnissimie is introduced between Boston and Dorchester.

"In 1635, Michael Sparke (possibly the Michael Sparkes in the title page of the editions of 1624, '26, and '27) published a Gazetteer in folio, under the following title: 'Historia Mundi, or Mercator's Atlas; containing his Cosmographical Descriptions of the Fabricke and Figure of the World. Lately rectified in divers places, as also beautified and enlarged with new Mapps and Tables by the Studious industrie of Jodocus Hondy. Englished by W. S. Generosus and Coll. Regin Oxoniae. London, printed for Michaell Sparke and Samuel Cartwright. 1635.'

"In the list of maps one of New England is mentioned 'after the booke before the Table' and in the Table, a 'Description of New England' is announced at page 931.' The text finishes at page 930, and in this place, before the 'Table,' is found the Map of New England exactly as described under (8). There is no 'Description' referring to this map and the notice on the map is probably the description alluded to.

"In the Table is the following quaint notice: 'Captaine John Smith in the yeere 1608 did discover Virginia, quod 'In illius honorem quem meruit, adnotavit Mercator. Et ego amicitiae gratia, in Indice collocavi, and shortly expect a map of Virginia, according as it is now, more exact.'

"On the last page below the errata is this memorandum: 'In page 905, for the Description of New Spaine, read New Virginia, but there is no map for Virginia in regard there is more exact map drawing in that Country, whose Platforme is not yet come over; but when it comes, every Buyer of the Booke shall have it given him gratis.' At page 905, this duplicate map of New Spain has a map of Virginia pasted over it, with the date 'Ralph Hall sculpsit, 1636.'

"Copies of other books by Smith are found either with the map (1) or another map to some of which they do not belong but have been inserted by book collectors:

"Other of Smith's books:

"The True Relation. London. 1608. Written by Thomas Watson, Gent, one of said Collony. London for John Tappe, 1608. 4to, with map. The printer's address shows that the book was really written by Capt. John Smith, 'one of the Consell there in Virginia,' and Watson's name inserted in the title page by mistake. Deane says: It may be affirmed that there is no reference to a map throughout this tract. It will probably be found that the map in the Grenville copy has been inserted from some other volume.

"(2) A Map of Virginia. Oxford. 1612. Smith in a letter from Virginia near the close of 1608 writes thus: 'I have sent you this map of the Bay and Rivers, with an annexed Relation of the Countries and natives that inhabit them.' This is no doubt the map IV, (1). and the Relation is that portion of the Tract, 1612, which was written by Smith, viz, the first part. In the preface to this tract we are told that 'it was penned in the Land it treateth of.'

"3. 4. New England's Trials. 1620-22. It is probable that a map should accompany both these tracts. (Lowndes does not mention the maps.) This map is found in Higginson's New England's Plantation. Of Higginson's New England's Plantation there were three editions, all published in 1630. The first edition is stated by Rich to have appeared in 1628, but erroneously, for Higginson did not arrive in New England until 1629. It is a small pamphlet of 20 pages. The second edition is said on the title page to be enlarged, and has 6 additional pages. There is no mention of a map throughout the work; but, at the close, it gives a list of the old and new names of the most remarkable places, beginning at the South and proceeding northward in regular order, only a few names being passed over. In this list Plimouth has not the prefix New, but it is so called in the body of the work; and on this map for the first time, Salem, at which place he says he had settled, follows Bastable: this corresponds with (6). It must be recollected, that in (7) the situation of Salem is changed; and according to that map (7), it would, in the enumeration, come before Bristow. Again, if (6) were published in 1630 it must have appeared late in that year, with scarcely time to have crossed the Atlantic, for on it are found, for the first time, P. Winthrop and P. Saltonstall, and these gentlemen did not arrive in the colony until the summer of 1630. These names do not occur in Higginson's enumeration. If, then, his book ought to have a map, and the position of Salem on his list is the only argument of consequence in favor of it, we should be forced to appropriate (6) to his work; while the introduction of the Points would prove that the book must have appeared late in the year, perhaps that the map belongs only to the third edition. No opportunity has been afforded of examining this edition to know if further additions have been made, or whether it is mere reprint of the second. This second edition having been printed by Sparke, as were the folios 1624, 1626, and 1627, and the Hondius 1635, he was probably the owner of the map, and may have inserted it in the book without authority.

"(5) Advertisements for Planters. Printed by John Haviland. 1631. 4to. This work should have the map and (6) is found in some copies of it apparently undisturbed. Smith states that Salem was settled in March, 1629, and adds, as Higginson says, that it was called by the natives Naemkeck, by the king, Bastable, and by the planters, Salem—this agrees with (6). He gives its latitude 42° 38″—this agrees with (7), Salem being removed south to nearly that position. He proceeds—'Some few of Dorchester,' (first found on (8)) 'have joined in society with others, and have sent to the Massachusetts, which they call Charlton or Charlestowne.' Here, again, he follows Higginson, who states 'the rest have planted themselves at Masathulets Bay, building a towne there which we doe call Cherton or Charles Towne.' Charlton appears first in (7), and is placed on the wrong side of the river. In (8) it remains in the same position, and Charles-Towne is introduced on the other side, very nearly in its proper place. After weighing this perplexing evidence, we should be disposed to exclude the map from Higginson's work, and appropriate (6) to Smith's advertisements; or, if the publication of it in 1631, so nearly corresponding with that of the last folio in 1632, should incline the reader to the opinion that (7) was used in both, then (6) may revert to Higginson.

"The following arrangement of the maps is proposed, not without diffidence, yet with the belief that it will be found in the main correct.

5153. SPILMAN, T. E. (REV.). Semi-Centenarians of Butler Grove Township, Montgomery Co., Ill. Also a Brief History of the Village of Butler. By Rev. T. E. Spilman. Sept. 1878. 12mo, pp. 143.*

This very interesting little book has a curious history. Mr. W. C. Breckenridge, of St. Louis, thus mentions it: "Mr. Spilman, when he began to gather statistics, intended to make an almanac. But it grew on his hands until he put in a little sketch of the village and put covers on it. He had boys set the type for it in his room, and printed it on a hand press. Hence the edition was limited, and as the paper was not of durable quality, the book is rarely ever met with."

5227. STITH, WILLIAM. The | History | of the | First Discovery | and | Settlement | of | Virginia: | Being | An Essay towards a General | History of this Colony. | By William Stith, A. M. | Rector of Henrico Parish, and one of the Governors of | William and Mary College. |

Williamsburg: | Printed by William Parks. 1747. 8vo, pp. viii, 331. Appendix, pp. v, 34.

"The valuable original documents from which this history was compiled have recently been destroyed by fire. The appendix contains a collection of charters relating to the period comprised in the volume. Besides the copious materials of Stith, the author derived assistance from the manuscripts of his uncle, Sir John Randolph, and from the records of the London Company, put into his hands by Col. William Byrd, President of the Council. Notwithstanding the recent efforts of American bibliographers, the bibliography of this subject remains in as much doubt and obscurity as ever. We briefly remark that there are two varieties of the first edition, one on coarse, the other on fine paper, except signature X, which is more or less poor in both. Then we have another Williamsburgh edition of the same date, but differing in several particulars. Lastly comes the London edition of 1753, which is precisely like the second Williamsburgh issue. It is not at all unlikely that the so-called London edition is the second Williamsburgh one with an English title-page." Menzies Catalog.

"Two varieties of paper are found in the volume, that used for sign X and for part of the Appendix being slightly inferior to the rest and somewhat discolored. In the title-pages of History and Appendix the word Virginia is in italic capitals, and the letters are absolutely identical, even in their defects, with those in which the same word appears in the title-page of Mercer's Abridgement of the Laws, printed by W. Parks in 1737, and the same typographical ornaments made in the same fashion, for page heads and initial letters, occur in the two volumes. The collation does not agree with two editions described by Mr. Sabin." Brinley.

For collation, see Brinley, Vol. 2, p. 132; Barlow, p. 360; Menzies, p. 396.

The documents from which Stith's book was compiled were destroyed by fire about 1882.

Major Stoddard was a member of the U. S. M. P. S. and New York Historical Society. A review of this book was published in the Eclectic Review for August, 1813. The reviewer states that the Americans have "made little literary use of their originally immense territory, and the vast acquisition in the recent addition of Louisiana." "Those Americans are leaving hundreds of thousands of square miles without an adventure of research, a measurement, a map, a Flora, or a set of views; leaving them with barely the distinction of a name to display the various aspects of climates and the changing aspects of seasons, for the unparticipated and unenvied entertainment of elks and buffaloes, bears, rattlesnakes, bullfrogs, &c. The meager publication of Patrick Gass is nearly all that we have gained of the story and result of the late expedition from the Mississippi to the Pacific and back again. But there exists in unmarked spots, in the neighborhood of the Atlantic, in that of the Ohio, of the Missouri, of the Columbia, clay that is destined to be one day dignified into bricks, and raised into structures, where royal quarto and folio shall be manufactured. The book before us is not a book of travels, though the author professes to have had personal observation of much it describes. It is an irregular mixture of natural and civil history with political geography."

Very frankly written, because without a thought of publication; and a striking picture of Michigan as it was sixty years ago, and incidentally of the modes of travel.

"This small volume printed at Skara, a small town of Sweden, unites for the collector the merits of great rarity and high importance. The work does not treat of America in general, but exclusively of the Swedish colonies in Pennsylvania, and may be justly called the most complete ecclesiastical history of Nova Suecia down to that time. The author was bishop of the Swedish congregations in America, and received in this function all the reports of the various ministers; the greater part of the book is filled by these authentic documents and letters, which abound with most valuable details. One of them, for instance, written by Andr. Hesselius, Phila., 1714, gives a circumstantial description of the country, its products, cities, government, state of the different churches, &c.

"Rich mentions the book in his Supplement, part 1, adding that the author was the father of the celebrated Emanuel Swedenberg. In no bookseller's catalog have I found a copy mentioned except in a recent one of Messrs. Friedlander, of Berlin." Müller.

5326. SYMONDS, WILLIAM. The Proceedings of the English Colonie in Virginia since their first beginning from England in the yeare of our Lord 1606, till this present 1612, with all their accidents that befell them in their Iourneys and Discoveries. By W. S. Oxford. 1612. 2 vols, sm 4to.

"With Smith's True Relation of 1608, and these two works (which were printed together as the title of the 'Map' indicates), the real history of the English colonies in America may be said to begin, as the settlements made between 1584 and 1607 had proved abortive. The Rev. William Symonds edited Smith's Map and added the second part by combining the manuscript relations of Dr. Russell, Thomas Studley, Anas Todkill, Jeffra Abbot, Richard Wiefin, Will Prettiplace, Nathaniel Powell, Richard Pots, and others of the colonists. It is a circumstance of extraordinary rarity to find the genuine map in this book. It is the original impression of the same plate that was afterwards used for Smith's General History of Virginia and Purchas' Pilgrims, but in the former instance the reference 'Smith, 41' was added in the right-hand bottom corner, and in the latter the reference '1690' superadded in the upper left-hand corner." Quaritch.

"The first portion of this tract was written by Smith, as he states in his 'Generall Historie,' 'with his owne hand.' It consists of a description of the country, its soil and productions, with a full account of the native inhabitants. This part ends at page 39. The second part has a separate title, Proceedings, &c. Pp. 110.

"This tract was reprinted in Smith's Generall Historie of Virginia with some changes and the introduction of new matter. It also appears in Purchas' Pilgrimes, Vol. 4, pp. 1691." Murphy.

5327. SYMMES, THOMAS. Historical Memoirs of the Battle at Piggwacket. Lovewell Lamented | Or, A | Sermon | Occasion'd by the Fall | Of the Brave | Capt. John Lovewell | And Several of his | Valiant Company, | In the late | Heroic Action | at Piggwacket. | Pronounc'd at Bradford, May 16, 1725 | By Thomas Symmes, V. D. M. | Boston in New England: Printed by B. Green, Junr., for S. Gerrish, near the Brick Meeting House in Cornhill. 1725. 8vo, pp. (4), xii, 32.

This is the rare first edition of the Memoirs of the Battle of Piggwacket. It contains an Historical Preface of Memoirs of the Battle of Piggwacket.

"Only one perfect copy, and that of the second edition, has been sold at public auction for many years, and this one has been four times offered in that manner. At the last public bidding, before the Menzies Library Sale, it was bought for $175.00." Field.

"The first edition of this sermon was published July 1, 1725, and was exhausted in a few days. A second edition appeared about the middle of the same month, with a title-page somewhat changed from the original one." Williamson.

Sold: Brinley, 1879, crushed red levt mo, glt, extra, by F. Bedford, uncut, 215.00.

5329. ———. The History of the Fight of the Intrepid Captain John Lovewell, which took place on the eighth day of May, 1725, on the beach of Lovell's Pond, in Fryeburg, in the District of Maine; together with the Commemoration Sermon delivered by the Rev. Thomas Symmes. Fryeburg: 1799. 12mo, pp. 60.

"This was edited by Elijah Russell, then editing Russell's Echo (a newspaper), in Fryeburg. The account is substantially the same as that given by Symmes, although there is some additional matter, such as the story of the duel between Paugus and Chamberlain. Perfect copies of this edition are very rare. No copy is known to exist which contains the title-page. The title is taken from Willis' Catalogue of Books on the History of Maine. Hist. Mag., 2d Ser., 7, pp. 161." Williamson.

5330. ———. A Brief History of the Battle which was fought on the eighth of May, 1725, between Capt. John Love-well, with his associates, and a Body of Indians under the Command of Paugus, Sachem of the Piggwacket Tribe. By T. Symmes, pastor of the church in Bradford, Mass. Portland: A. & J. Shirley. 1818. 12mo, pp. 19.

"Preliminary remarks to this edition, dated at Fryeburg, April 8, 1818, contain a brief account of the early settlement of that town." Williamson.

Georgia Hist. Coll. II, Force Tracts, Vol. 1, No. 4.

Reprint: Humphrey's American Colonial Tracts, No. 4, August, 1897.

Reprinted in London without a date, but probably in the same year.

"The volume is of typographical as well as historical importance, as a very early production of the Southern press. The printer, Peter Timothy, was the son of Lewis, and began business on his own account in 1740. Books with a Charleston imprint before 1750 are rare." Brinley, Vol. 2.

"This rare tract contains some severe critiques on John Wesley." Roche.

"This rare pamphlet contains some very unpleasant particulars of the scandalous conduct of the Rev. John Wesley during his apostolic mission in Savannah. According to these gentlemen, 'He was indicted before a Grand Jury of Forty-four Freeholders and Thirteen Indictments were found against him: one concerned Mr. Williamson and his Spouse.' Mr. Wesley, it appears, undertook 'to pour the leperous distilment' into the ear of this virtuous lady, to the effect that 'her husband had no right to regulate her behaviour as to conversing with him.' However, as soon as the distinguished apostle heard that these indictments had been found against him, he did not tarry to discuss the question further, but bolted out of town in the night, fled to Charles-Town, and thence to England. See pp. 41, 2, 3, and 48." Ives Catalog.

"It places the conduct of General Oglethorpe in a very different light from that in which it has generally been represented." Rich.

"The writers attribute the ruin and desolation of the colony to the misrepresentations of Gov. Oglethorpe, denying the use of negroes, &c., &c." Brinley, No. 3922.

In 1742 another pamphlet, "An Account Showing the Progress of the Colony of Georgia," was written in opposition to the rather sarcastic utterances of Tailfer. For full title see No. 1865. To quote from its Preface: "How far the ill nature and impotent malice of the authors of the narrative (Tailfer's) have carried them beyond the bounds of truth or good manners will appear in the following sheets, which give a true and authentic account of the progress of that colony from its first establishment to the year 1741, which, being published by the order of the honorable the trustees, and printed in London, Anno 1741, is now reprinted here, with no other view than to obviate the prejudice which may be raised in the minds of people by that scandalous narrative (Tailfer's), and so may be a means of delivering that new settlement from the ill effect of such misrepresentations as are handed about by that libel to deter his majesty's subjects from settling in that frontier colony, so necessary for advancing and protecting the trade of this and our mother country on the southernmost part of North America, and extending our colonies both on the Gulf of Florida and Bay of Mexico."

5383. THAYER, ELI. A history of the Kansas crusade; its friends and its foes; introduction by Rev. E. Everett Hale. New York: Harper. 1889. 12mo, pp. 20, 294.

Aims to show by what agency Kansas was made a free State. Mr. Thayer is eminently fitted to tell the story, as he was largely instrumental in bringing about the exclusion of slavery from Kansas. As early as 1854, when a Representative in the Massachusetts Legislature from the town of Worcester, he conceived the plan of frustrating the purpose of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise by encouraging and assisting emigration to Kansas from the free States of the North. His scheme was to fill up the territory with settlers who would vote "to save Kansas to freedom." The result was the establishment of the New England Emigrant Aid Company, which helped many thousand resolute men and women to emigrate. The full story and its results are told here. Mr. E. E. Hale, who was one of the youngest directors of the company, endorses Mr. Thayer's narrative. Mr. Thayer is not friendly to the Abolitionists of his day, whom he calls "disunionists," nor does he look upon John Brown as anything approaching a hero.

5389. ———. An Account of | Pennsylvania and | West New Jersey | By Gabriel Thomas | Reprinted from the original edition of 1698 | With Introduction by | Cyrus Townsend Brady, LL.D. | Cleveland: | The Burrows Brothers Company, | 8vo, pp. 83. Map. Edition of 250 copies. Introduction; Title: Thomas's Pennsylvania and West New Jersey. London: A. Baldwin, 1698. Title pages, map and text reprinted from a copy of the original edition in the Lenox Library, New York City; Facsimile of original title, 1698; Dedication; Preface; Text, pp. 57. Facsimile title of West New Jersey; To Sir John Moor, &c.; Preface to Reader; Text, pp. 58 to 83.*

"Little did this author realize the worth of his contribution, either as such or from a standpoint of financial value. At the date of its inception and composition, the writer is believed to have been a citizen of London, having previously resided in America for a period of about fifteen years, and the information contained in the book gives the result of his own experience and observation. In its general make-up the second portion of the book, devoted to West-New-Jersey, is in every way similar to that preceding. Descriptions, exceedingly valuable to the student of contemporary history, are lengthy and full of rich material, notices of the soil and climate, and particularly the portions which refer to the native Indians, are of inestimable value. As to the scarcity of the original, little need be said. Its present-day market valuation as a rare book is fully that of a thousand dollars, one having been recently offered for more than this amount by a prominent dealer." Burrows Bros.' Cat.

5407. THOMPSON, MAURICE. The story of Louisiana; Illustrated by L. J. Bridgman. Boston: D. Lothrop Co. (1889.) 8vo, pp. 337.

The story of the States.

Of all the States, Louisiana is most dowered with the gifts of romance and associations. Its varying fortunes as a colony now of France, now of Spain, its attraction to adventurers from the North, its picturesqueness of scenery and population, its wealth of romance make its history both attractive and exciting. Mr. Thompson's gift as a novelist and essayist, and the fact that he has long been a lover of the South and a student of her people, scenery, and surroundings make him an exceptional historian. The story is told, too, without any partisan or sectional feelings, so that all Americans may enjoy it. The aim has been throughout not to give a dull statistical compilation or historical narrative, but rather to seize the striking and picturesque side of the story that the general reader would most delight in. Ann. Am. Cat.

5408. THOMPSON, R. A. Historical and Descriptive Sketch of Sonoma County, California. Philadelphia: 1877. 8vo, pp. 104.

5409. THOMPSON, THOMAS. A Letter from New Jersey in America, giving some Account and Description of that Province. By a Gentleman late of Christ's College, Cambridge. London: M. Cooper. 1756. 8vo, pp. 26.

"This tract is totally unreliable, and on account of its worthlessness it has become exceedingly rare. The author signed himself T. T." Henkels.

Priced by Dodd, Mead & Co., 1906, at $67.50.

"An extremely rare piece. Sabin thirty years ago said of it: 'It is as rare as it is worthless, but would sell for a good price.' But to the reader who enjoys reading the observations of the old travelers on the manners, natural history, etc., of the country, the book is by no means worthless." Dodd, Mead & Co. Cat.

Sold: Murphy, 1884, 6.00; Weeks, 1902, hlf mo, 5.50.

5410. THOMPSON, THOMAS H. Official Historical Atlas Map of Tulare County, California. Tulare: 1892. Folio. Maps and Views.

"Properly speaking, there has been but one edition of this work, that above designated. On the title-page of some of the copies, however, the words Published for the Author are omitted. In 1853 Mr. Thompson published an appendix in a separate volume, which is now generally bound with the work to which it belongs in a single volume. The title of the Appendix is in these words: Appendix to the History of Vermont, Natural, Civil and Statistical. 1853. By Zadock Thompson (State seal and motto), Burlington. Publ. by Author. Stacey & Jameson, Prs., 1853. 8vo, pp. 64. Each of the three parts is often bound separately, being complete in itself. The Appendix, which, in the main, treats of the Natural History of the State, is sometimes bound with Part 1, thus forming a full and very correct work on the Natural History of Vermont." Hall's Bibliography Vermont.

5416. THOMSON, A. M. A Political History of Wisconsin. There is no Romance like that of History. Indeed, in a large sense, History is Romance; for Life itself is strange and mysterious, and all its Happenings are filled with Dramatic Elements which need but the touch of Imagination to glow as the dull Carbon flashes when quickened by the Electric Current. All the Years have voices for them that will hear; and even the Simple Annals of Commonplace Events have in the Hearts of them Epic possibilities. George R. Peck. By A. M. Thomson. Milwaukee, Wis.: E. C. Williams, 1900. Roy 8vo, pp. xi-452.*

Illustrated with full-page steel portraits.
First published in The Milwaukee Sentinel in 1898. Preface contains a sketch of Mr. Thomson.

"The narrative begins with an account of the legislative measures which in 1790 secured the present site of Washington as the national capital. The chapters which follow are devoted to the taking possession, the city's sponsors, its early days, its destruction by the British in 1811, its occupation and the retreat of the British; 'the battles of the giants' relate to the debates of Webster, Clay, Hayne, John Randolph, and other great orators; the events of the late war which occurred in Washington are the subject of another chapter, and also the 'marching home and into history' of our victorious army. The 'modern city' forms the second part of the volume, and includes descriptions of the Capitol, the Executive Mansion, the departments, the churches, public schools, public institutions, monuments, newspapers, suburban Washington, and social life 1800-1888." *Publ. This book was never completed. In a MS. note inserted in a copy presented to the late Dr. W. H. Egle, Judge Veech writes: "It was written and printed in 1857, hurriedly and with limited materials, (but) the discovery of errors and defects and the death of Mr. Lewis induced a suspension of the work, which has never been resumed, and a suppression of what has been printed. But some friends wishing to have them, I have allowed some copies to go out."

This copy has the title written in Judge Veech's handwriting as he intended it to appear, as follows: "The Monongahela of Old; or, History of Fayette County, Pa. By Freeman Lewis and James Veech. Pittsburg. 1860." Another title of a copy sold at sale of Dr. Egle's books is: "Veech, James. The Monongahela of Old; or, Historical Sketches of Southwestern Pennsylvania to the Year 1800. Pittsburg: Printed for Private Distribution only. 1860."

Some copies have 240 pages; others, by the addition of Judge Veech's article on Mason and Dixon's Line, make the number of pages greater.

Also, Mass. Hist. Collec., 3d Ser., Vol. 6. 4to, pp. 24.

"The authorship of this exceedingly rare pamphlet has been attributed to Vincent by the Publishing Committee of the Massachusetts Historical Society in their note to the reprint of the Relation, in the third volume of their Collections.

"It is a narrative of the battle with the Pequods, fought by Captains Mason and Underhill, an account of which was written by the last doughty commander and printed in 1638 under the title of "News from America." Vincent's Relation is of even greater rarity than Underhill's. This is attested by the fact that the reprint named was made from a mutilated copy, the imperfections of which were uncorrected in the reprint, from the impossibility of finding a perfect copy for comparison." Field's Indian Bibl'y, Deane Catalog.

5600. Strange Newes | from | Virginia | being | a true Relation of a Great Tempest in | Virginia, by which many people lost their | Lives, great numbers of Cattle de- | stroyed, and in many pla- | ces whole Plantations overturned, and whole Woods torn up | by the Roots. | As a further addition to this calamity the Sea | exceeded its usual height above twelve Foot, over- | flowing all the Plaine Country, carrying away | much Corn and Tobacco, with many | Cattle, forcing the Inhabitants into | the Mountains for the security | of their Lives. | London. Printed for W. Thackeray next door to | the Dolphin in Smithfield, 1667.

5601. Strange News | from | Virginia: | being a full and true | Account of the | Life and Death | of | Nathaniel Bacon,

Esquire, | who was the only Cause and Original of all the late | Troubles in that country. | With a full Relation of all the accidents which have | happened in the late War there between the | Christians and Indians. | —— | London, Printed for William Harris, next door to the Turn- | stile without Moorgate, 1677.

Nathaniel Bacon was a colonist in the Governor's Council in 1674, and a thorough Democrat. His popularity led him to place himself at the head of the colonists against the Susquehannocks in opposition to the orders of Governor Berkeley at the beginning of the Indian hostilities of 1675-76, his death putting an end to the rebellion in October, 1676.

5602. "Excessively rare. This narrative, issued at a time when the fortunes of the little colony seemed to be sinking, just as Raleigh's first settlement had done. It gives us the first account of the disastrous expedition of Sir Geo. Summers, Sir Thos. Gates, and Capt. Newport, in 1609, and their narrow escape by falling in with the Bermudas, or Summer Islands. 'These Islands of the Bermudas have ever been accounted as an inchaunted pile of rocks and a desert inhabitation of Divels.'" Quaritch.

"This is a very early and important account of Virginia, and of exceedingly great rarity. Neither Menzies nor Brinley nor Murphy had a copy. Quaritch prices it at £120." Ives Catalog.

"Besides Hudson no navigator except De Vries published a narrative of his voyages to New Netherland during the Dutch possession. An English translation of this interesting narrative was made by the Hon. Henry C. Murphy, and privately printed by the late James Lenox, of New York, in a quarto volume with an engraved portrait of the author. In his introduction the translator, in speaking of the author says: His narratives where he speaks from personal knowledge, are entitled to the highest credit, for not only do they bear internal evidence of truth, but they have been corroborated in many instances by other evidence, and by the records which we have. His relation of the disgraceful and disastrous Indian war, in which he was an actor and friend of the Indians, is the only authentic one extant, of any completeness, except that of the government, and is therefore, of great interest and value." Murphy Catalog.

"With the rare portrait of De Vries at the age of sixty, engraved by Cornelius Vischer.

"De Vries made six voyages, the one to New Netherlands being the most interesting. Of the others, one was to Newfoundland for fish, one to Guiana, and three to the East Indies.

"In the introduction to Murphy's translation of these voyages, privately printed by Mr. Lenox, he says of all the numerous Dutch navigators and travelers after Hudson, De Vries was the only one who published a journal or narrative of any voyage to New Netherlands during the period of the possession of the country by the Dutch nation.

"In this introduction, Murphy further says: 'The book is one of the rarest to be found, no printed copy being known to have been extant in this country, before the one from which the following translation has been made was obtained by James Lenox, Esq.'

"Of the eighteen copperplates printed in the text, two represent the author's encounters with the pirates in the Mediterranean, four relate to the East Indies, and twelve to America. The text was first printed and the illustrations afterward printed in the spaces left for them." Pennypacker Catalog.

5675. WARD, EDWARD. A Trip to New England. With a Character of the Country and People, both English and Indian. London, Printed in the Year, 1699. Folio.

*This first edition of "Ned" Ward's interesting though scurrilous book is extremely rare. No one of the great collections dispersed at auction seems to have owned it, unless it were in the Deane library. The Deane copy was bound in with other works by Ward, and the volume was described as "A Collection of the Writings of Edward Ward," of which the "Trip to New England" was Part XIX. The date given for the collection was "1700-01," but this piece may have been the edition of 1699, as we know of no edition of 1700. Brinley had only the "Second Edition" of 1704, which Dr. Trumbull called "A naughty but very scarce book."

He says of the people of Boston:

"Election, Commencement, and Training days, are their only holy days; they keep no Saints-Days, nor will they allow the Apostles to be Saints, yet they assume that Sacred Dignity to themselves; and say in the Title Page of their Psalm-Book, Printed for the edification of the Saints in Old and New England."

He misquotes the extract from the title of the Psalm-Book. It actually read: "For the use edification and comfort of the saints in publick and private, especially in New-England." Dodd, Mead & Co. Catalog.

Priced by Dodd, Mead & Co., 1907, at $350.00.

Sold: Deane, 1898, Collection of the Writings of Edward Ward, Part 19 being A Trip to New England, London. 1700-01. Folio, hlf clf, 31.00.

5676. ———. Writings of the Author of the London Spy including "A Trip to Jamaica with a true Character of the People and Island;" and "A Trip to New England, with a Character of the Country and People, both English and Indians." The Second Edition. London: 1704. 8vo, pp. 401.

"Ned Ward was a graceless scamp. His 'Trip to New England' fairly matches if it does not surpass, the Rev. Sam Peters' 'History of Connecticut.' The latter seems to have taken a hint for one of his blue laws from Ward's story (p. 173) of 'Captain of a ship, who had been a long voyage, happened to meet his wife, and kissed her in the street (of Boston), for which he was fined 10 shillings,' the offenses of open kissing and fornication being both of a price; and another inhabitant of the town was fine'd ten shillings for kissing his wife in his garden, and was whipped for refusing to pay the fine." Brinley Catalog, 1879.

Sold: Brinley, Writings of Ward, 2d ed, 1704, old clf, title imperfect, 5.50.

In 1905 a reprint was made with the following title: Boston in 1682 and 1699. A Trip to New England by Edward Ward and a Letter from New England by J. W.—Providence: 1905. 8vo.

These two tracts, one of which is so rare that it apparently entirely escaped the notice of the editors of the Randolph Papers and of the Andros Tracts, were both written by ill-wishers to New England. They give a most hostile "character of the country and people, both English and Indians, their customs, manners and religion." The author of one was the notorious London pamphleteer and tavern keeper, whose work Justin Winsor described as abusive and scandalous. No one would think of believing "Ned Ward," the editor of the London Spy, who was sentenced more than once to stand in the pillory for his scurrility; yet for all this he probably was as truthful if not as pious, as Parson Peters of a later generation. The other tract is signed "J. W.," and was written by a rabid partisan of Edward Randolph, to whom the New Englanders ascribed most of the misfortunes which culminated in the unhappy rule of Andros. Both were written to attract the notice of the London populace, and their manner and phraseology are thoroughly typical of the popular literature of the later Stuart-time. They contain much that is curious and suggestive regarding the social, religious and public life of Boston and of the rest of New England at the beginning of what has been called its "glacial period."

"The introduction, written by George Parker Winship of the John Carter Brown Library, touches upon some of the evidence relating to social conditions in Boston at the close of the seventeenth century. A number of interesting utterances are quoted from the leading divines of the city at that time, whose intimate knowledge of local affairs enabled them to confirm much that Ward and J. W. had observed.

"The volume contains, in addition to facsimile titles, three woodcut initial letters, designed and engraved to illustrate the text. It is hoped that this method of illustration, which is introduced somewhat after the practice of certain seventeenth century Italian book-makers, will commend itself." Burrows Bros. Catalog.

5680. WARD, NAHUM. A Brief Sketch of the State of Ohio, one of the United States in North America; With a Map delineating the same into Counties. Giving the opinion of Thomas Hutchinson, Esq., Geographer of the United States, and British Travellers in 1787, when the State was uninhabited by civilized Men. Likewise exhibiting a view of the unparalleled progress of that State since 1789 to the present day, it being now the fourth State in the Union in point of Population and Representation in Congress. By a Resident of Twelve Years at Marietta in that State. Glasgow: Printed by J. Neven and sold by A. Penman & Co., Booksellers. 1822. 8vo, pp. 16. Map.

"Sabin erroneously states that the author was R. J. Meigs. One of the rarest relating to the State, is of little value historically. It was published by Nahum Ward of Marietta to induce emigration to his section of the State. Mr. Ward owned numerous tracts of land in the counties of Washington, Meigs, Athens, Hocking, Gallia and Lawrence, 'which are offered for sale in tracts of 40, 80, 100, 160, 200, and from that to 3,000 acres in a body at from 9s. to 42s.

per acre, in the wood, according to quality and location,' and he further states that those purchasing lands of him 'can have a house built of logs 22 feet by 16, with small glass windows, fitted for comfortable habitation for £7.'

"Reprinted in London in 1823 and a French translation in Paris in 1829." Thomson.

5686. WARRE, HENRY J. (CAPT.). Sketches in North America and the Oregon Territory. By Captain H. Warre. (A. D. C. to the late Commander of the Forces.) (London: 1848.) Elephant folio, pp. 5.

Large colored map, 14 beautiful plates of the country, Indians, Customs, etc., of exceeding rarity.

The text written and the illustrations painted by Captain Henry J. Warre, during a journey of 14 months through the heart of the Oregon country. This is one of the scarcest books dealing with this region, no copy having been offered for sale during the last ten or fifteen years, as we can ascertain. The excellent map showing itinerary and incidentally the topography of the country at that time is of great value. The work was issued with both colored and plain plates, the former at £.3-13-6 net. Evidently but five were issued, as the expense must have been very considerable. The plates are among the finest examples of lithography that we have come upon and include among others, "Mount Hood from Les Dalles;" "Indian Tomb;" "Distant View of the Rocky Mountains;" "The American Village;" "Buffalo Hunting on the W. Prairies;" "Valley of the Willamette River;" "Les Dalles Columbia River;" "Sources of the Columbia River;" "Fort George, Formerly Astoria;" etc. The description of the Indians, the Western Prairies, Astoria, and the Oregon Territory are all of the greatest interest and value.

5978. ———. Chronicles of Border Warfare; or a History of the Settlement by the Whites of Northwestern Virginia, and of the Indian Wars and Massacres in that Section of the State; with Reflections, Anecdotes, &c. New Edition, edited and annotated by Reuben Gold Thwaites; with an Addition of a Memoir of the Author and several Illustrative Notes, by Lyman Copeland Draper. Cincinnati, O.: The Robert Clarke Co. 1895. 8vo, pp. 20, 447. Portrait.

"Originally published in Clarksburg in 1831. For the preparation of this new edition the services of Dr. Draper were engaged some five years ago. Dr. Draper had spent many years in collecting material in this line, and was eminently fitted to edit Withers' work; he died, unfortunately, before completing more than a third of the annotations, Mr. Thwaites taking up the work where Dr. Draper left it. Mr. Thwaites completed the annotations, added an analytical index and a selected bibliography, included in the Index. As Dr. Draper's literary executor and as Secretary of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, he possessed ample means for the proper elucidation of Withers' text." Publ. Weekly.

The Rev. Charles Wolley (or Wooley) accompanied Sir Edmund Andros to New York as his chaplain in 1678. At the expiration of two years he returned to England and published. in 1701, his "Journal," to which much value is attached, particularly as concerns the Indians. His knowledge regarding the trade of New York at that date, and the prices of furs and other commodities, is of great interest.

An original copy is worth about $1,000.

"This reprint of his narrative is valuable as there are but few of the original copies in existence." N. Y. Press.

5992. ———. A Sketch of the First Settlement of the Several Towns on Long Island, with their Political Condition to the End of the American Revolution; with a Biographical Memoir and Additions by Alden Spooner. A portrait and Photographs of Dwellings. Brooklyn: Printed for the Furman Club. 1865. 8vo, pp. 21, 205. 1 leaf errata.

After the Biography of Mr. Spooner the following title occurs: Silas Wood's Sketch of the Town of Huntington, Long Island. From its First Settlement to the End of the American Revolution. Edited with Genealogical and Historical Notes, by William S. Pelletreau. New York: Francis P. Harper. 1898. 8vo, pp. x, Title: A Sketch of The Geography of the Town of Huntington; with a Brief History of its First Settlement and Political Condition to the End of the Revolution. Washington: Davis & Force. 1824. 8vo, pp. 63. Frontispiece of Silas Wood.*

Limited edition of 210 copies.

"This edition was put forth by somebody who attempted to eclipse the old fable of the Frog and the Ox and came to the same untimely end." Sabin.

This very excellent treatise contains almost all we know of the Indians of Long Island. The careful and intelligent author expended much time in collecting the data, and incidents relating to the various tribes of aborigines once inhabiting the island. Pages 61 to 80 are occupied solely with the information he collected, of which not the least reliable is the vocabulary on page 69.

5993. WOOD, WICK W. Historical Review of the Towns and Business Houses, including Valuable Local Information and Showing the Resources of Lawrence County, and Admirable Shopping Facilities as well as Desirability as a Field for the Investment of Capital Unsurpassed by any County in the State. Compiled by Wick W. Wood. New Castle, Pa.: The News Co., Limited Steam Prs. 1887. 8vo, pp. 132.*

5994. WOOD, WILLIAM. Nevv | Englands | Prospect. | A true, lively, and experimen- | tall description of that part of America, | Commonly called Nevv England: | discovering the state of that Coun- | trie, both as it stands to our new-come | English Planters; and to the old | Native Inhabitants. | Laying downe that which may both enrich the | knowledge of the mind- travelling Reader, | or benefit the future Voyager. | By William Wood. | Printed at London by Tho. Cotes for Iohn Bellamie, and are to be sold | at his shop, at the three Golden Lyons in Corne-hill, neere the | Royall Exchange. 1634. Sm. 4to.*

Collation: Four preliminary leaves, viz: Title, verso blank; "To the Right Worshipfull, my most honoured Friend, Sir William Armyne, Knight and Baronet." 2 pp. signed "W. W." To the Reader William Wood, 1 p. signed "S. W." The "Table and Errata," 1 p. Folding map—"The South Part of Nevv England as it is planted this years, 1634." Text, 96 pp. Nomenclator (Indian Vocabulary), 5 pp.

"This first edition is very rare, only the two copies have come into the English market during the last thirty years. Even Mr. Brinley had none, although there were two copies of the second edition (1635) in his collection. This work is particularly interesting for its map, to which, by reason of its correctness and fulness of detail, no previous map is in any way comparable; and for its short Dictionary or 'Nomenclator,' occupying five pages at the end, which takes precedence of all the linguistic labors of Eliot, Roger Williams and others." Quaritch.

Priced in 1906, by Dodd, Mead & Co., at $800.00, as follows:

Small 4to, dark-blue crushed levant morocco, elaborately tooled, with gilt edges, by Pratt, in case. $800.00. London, Tho. Cotes for John Bellamie, 1634.

The first edition of the first printed account of Massachusetts Colony. Part I is a description of the natural features of the Country; and Part II., pp. 56-98, tells of the habits and customs of the Indians. Following this are five pages of an English-Indian Dictionary, which is very valuable in the study of the Indian tongue. Roger Williams may have assisted Wood in the compilation of this list.

With the rare map "The South Part of New England as it is Planted in this years, 1634."

A fine copy with very large margins and some leaves uncut at the bottom. This 1634 edition is very rare in any condition, with the map. The book was reprinted in 1635, and the legend on the map altered to "this yeare, 1635."

In the mammoth volume, "List of Maps of America in the Library of Congress," the following note is appended to the description of the map of 1635:

"Note.—The original edition has the date 1635; but the following reprints are dated 1634."

The paging in the two vols. is continuous.

Rare in any condition, particularly so uncut. "The aboriginal History of New York is very ably treated, these divisions of the work being almost entirely devoted to an examination of the various questions which have so vexed ethnologists regarding the origin of the savages, the pre-Columbian history and discovery of America, and a narrative of events connected with Indian history to the year 1633." Field.

Sabin says that Moulton is the sole author of this scarce book.
